DIRECTORY

At the request of a number of influential citizens of the district, I have decided, on or about the first of 1888, to issue a directory of the District of Saskatchewan.

It will embrace, besides the usual matter contained in such publications, sketches of the rise and progress of the various settlements through the district, setting forth their natural resources, and giving a crop report for the year 1887.

No pains will be spared to make it thoroughly reliable as a source of reference for business men and others.

Advertisements will be inserted at the rate of 10 cents per line, or 25 cents per page. The subscription price to advertisers will be fifty cents per copy, to those not advertising $1.

Orders for copies of the directory may be directed to Ed. J. Kane or J. N. Campbell, Stationers, Prinice Albert.

Orders for advertisements must be directed to

TELEGRAPHIC.

(By Special Telegraph.)

CLARK'S CROSSING, Sept. 16.

The second annual show of the Central Saskatchewan Agricultural Society will be held at Saskatoon on Wednesday next, 21st inst. The prize list embraces all the usual exhibits, and is a very liberal one.

The steamer Minnow, on route to Hamilton from Medicine Hat, passed down on Thursday last.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 12.

The Dominion Government has applied for two injunctions to prevent the Red River Valley Railway from crossing crown lands. This action provokes considerable sensation. It will be fought out in the courts.

Wm. O'Brien and other nationalists have been arrested under the new crimes act; and considerable trouble is anticipated in Ireland on that account.

The decision of the lower court with regard to the Chicago anarchists has been confirmed by the Supreme Court of Illinois, and the convicted Anarchists will be hanged on November the 11th.

Archbishop Fabre will consecrate the new Catholic church at St. Boniface on Sunday next.

McLeish's murderers have not yet been extradited.

The race for the St. Lager stakes was won by Kiwarden, owned by Lord Rodger; Merryhampton, owned by Mr. Abington, was second, and the Duchess of Montrose's Timothy was third.

LOCAL NEWS.

Use Clark's Glycerine Cream for beautifying the skin.

Treaty payments in this district commence Tuesday next.

A considerable amount of freight arrived in town this week, and freights innumerable are on their way from Troy loaded with merchandise for our merchants.

Tenders are asked for the erection of a log building for the Collection School district. Specifications can be had from the secretary of the Board, Mr. H. W. Halpin.

Mr. J. M. Campbell, with his usual enterprise, has imported a thoroughbred stallion. He stands 14 hands or a little over; is a beautiful dapple bay, with a star on his forehead, and one white stocking. He has good points, fine action and is only one year old.

Mr. Thomas Rogers, who for some time was not expected to recover from his severe illness, improved so much of late that on Thursday last in company with his brother in law, Mr. Norman, he started for Ontario, where he will remain until he fully recovers his usual health.

The fire appliances purchased by the town should be immediately put in order, and the fire brigade thoroughly organized, so that in case of need everything will be in its place and everyone know his duty. It is always too late to lock the stable door after the horse has been taken out.

The secretary of the Lorne Agricultural Society will be pleased to receive sample bunches, about three inches thick in the stem, of wheat, oats, barley or flax. The best samples are to be sent east for emigration purposes. Come, also intending immigrants what can be grown here.

We understand that the building of Harris, now in C. Co., lately used as a store house, is now being rented by a nurse, and that easy arrangements with that firm could be made for it. It would answer for a general purpose hall, if an addition for a stage was put up to one end. Some of our enterprising men might take it into consideration, as it is well known such a place is really needed in the town. Why does not the Agricultural Society secure the use of it for their annual show?

Use Clark's Vegetable Sugar Coated and Antidiphtheria Pills.

THE NEW MILL.

The Prospectus of the Prince Albert Milling Co. has been printed and circulated among our business men and farmers, giving reasons for the enterprise and giving a full report of the mill as it now stands; the immediate cash required; and the estimate of expenditure. The shares are placed at the low figure of $25, so that almost everyone can assume one or more shares. The shares are limited to 504, thus making the amount of stock to be subscribed here $12,600. About half of the stock has already been taken up, thus ensuring the certainty of the project being carried into effect. It is to be hoped all who have an interest in the erection of another flour mill in this district will secure one or more shares, according as their means will permit.

The session of the Manitoba Teachers' Association, now in progress in Winnipeg, is a most important one, and is likely to produce excellent results. Additional interest is added to the meeting by the presence of Dr. McLaughlin, of Toronto, who is well known to many of the Manitoba teachers, and whose counsel and advice cannot fail to be appreciated and to prove useful.

The summer has been short, all too short most people will think. But it must not be assumed that summer is at an end because of a few cool days. There will be warm weather yet. The finest months in the year of our Canadian climate are still before us. Nothing could be more charming in the way of weather than September and October. The reports of the crop prospects are not peculiarly gratifying, except as regards the Northwest, where the outlook is magnificent. The early frosts have usually managed to arrive in time to do no end of mischief, but this year they have been anticipated. So much depends on the crops, and so many farmers have all they can do to make both ends meet, that a good harvest is a matter of vital concern.

The Toronto Telegram says that headway is being made towards the settlement of the fishery question by the appointment of a commission, as we may safely conclude that the commission will not rise until a settlement of the question has been reached. While the commission is about it why should it not be empowered to take up the subject of extradition and settle it also? These two subjects have been before the people of the two countries long enough. As for the fisheries, there are more fish in the sea than will ever be caught, and as for the fugitive offenders, there is no earthly reason for not handing them over to the courts of their own country. A defaulter who clears out from his own country and takes refuge in a foreign land, by the very act of so doing furnishes prima facie evidence of his guilt. If he were not guilty he would not need to become a fugitive from justice. Settle the fishery question, enlarge the extradition law, and establish closer commercial relations between the two countries, and then this talk of annexation will come to an end.

In one of the English magazines Mr. Gladstone makes some calculations of interest to the Liberal party, the object being to show that the country is turning its face more and more towards Liberalism, and that the next general election will witness a Liberal triumph. Mr. Gladstone is always sanguine. It is this quality that so largely commends him to his followers. If he were to be continually showing them the dark side of the picture instead of the bright side they would desert him in shoals, so heavy are the demands he makes upon their loyalty to himself by almost forcing them to follow where he leads. Take his Irish Bills as an example. These were swallowed by the Liberal party mainly because they were Mr. Gladstone's. Anybody else who had made such proposals to the Liberals would have been hooted out of public life. His desire is said to be to wind up his career by settling the Irish question. It may fall to his lot to settle the Irish question on the lines he has laid down, but it is quite evident that at his time of life he cannot expect to live to see the effect of the settlement. Two things the Irish agitators desire—one is to drive every landlord out of the country, and the other to put an end to English rule in Ireland. Is this not rather more than they have a right to expect?

English visitors all speak highly of Canada and her transcontinental railway. They come over expecting to find this a sparsely settled country with a single line of railway running through it, and they find flourishing cities and railways running in all directions. To most of them, when they take us in with their single eye glass, Canada is a revelation, and they do not hesitate to express their surprise at the progress the country has made. But why should it not make progress? It is peopled by men and women of hardy growth, and it has a future in prospect to which any country might well look forward with hopeful expectation. There is probably no country on earth where the comforts of life are so generally distributed as in the case in Canada. Here there are few millionaires. We do not need them, and the sentiment expressed by one of themselves the other day that the time will come when it will be a reflection on a man to die rich will spread, and the result will be seen in men of wealth distributing their means in such a way as to promote the comfort and pleasure of their fellows. Of what use is money anyway but for the good it enables you to do? When millionaires who have hoarded up their wealth and left it for others to squander and squabble over get to some other planet, how annoyed they must be that they did not put it to some good purpose while they were still in the flesh.

The Winnipeg Call says it will probably be found, after the United States Congress meets in December, that the papers in Canada which have occupied so much space in discussing commercial union have been wasting time. There does not seem to be much probability of Congress taking up the idea. Nor is there any likelihood of commercial union becoming popular on this side of the line. The people have come clearly to understand that there is a vast difference between commercial union and reciprocity. The possibility of a revival of the reciprocity treaty of 1854 would doubtless be hailed with satisfaction throughout the Dominion, and farmers, who would be the most seriously affected by any change in the fiscal relations between the two countries, should bear in mind that there is a standing provision in the statutes enabling the Canadian Government, without any further legislation, to meet the United States on equal terms—that is to say if Congress admits Canadian natural products free as in 1854, the Canadian Government could, and doubtless would, by proclamation, declare that the same articles could enter Canada from the United States free of duty. If Congress, instead of altogether removing the duties on such products, merely reduces them, the Canadian Government can by proclamation fix the same duty on American products. England would not allow, nor would the great bulk of the Canadian people, who are essentially loyal to Britain, assent to a proposition to make any tariff arrangement by which the United States would get a preferential position in Canadian markets over the mother country.

TERRITORIAL NEWS

REGINA.

From the Leader, August 30.

A farmer near Regina sold his crop for $25. The purchaser threatened not to pay $20 bushels and when he heard from there still thinking.

There were two or three degrees of frost on Tuesday. Beyond supping the leaves of cottonwoods, we have not heard of it doing any further damage.

Ex Mayor Worthbrook, of Winnipeg, was in town on Friday and Saturday, looking more the worse for having been in orchard harvest for a year. He left for Prince Albert Sunday morning.

Mr. Fisher's crop, with the exception of a small patch of wheat, is cut and about to be stacked. The sample of bearded wheat, sent from Ottawa, has done remarkably well.

T. G. Moyle, Inspector of Penitentiaries, arrived on Tuesday night from the West and on Wednesday he inspected the jail here and found it with the improvements now in progress satisfactory.

EDMONTON.

From the Bulletin, August, 20.

T. P. Wadsworth, Inspector of Indian agencies, arrived to-day from Victoria.

A Lang has been awarded the police beef contract at Fort Saskatchewan and Edmonton at 12 cts.

The total assessment of East Edmonton school district is about $46,000. The rate of taxation probably will be about 4 1/2 mills in the dollar.

Frost occurred in Victoria on the night of Sunday, Aug. 7th. Some oats and barley were far enough advanced to escape serious damage, but all late grain was injured.

J. Kelley arrived on Wednesday from Good Fish lake, where he had been assisting Mr. Wadsworth in choosing a site for the erection of grist mill furnished the White Fish lake Indians by the department. A suitable water power was found. Crops at Good Fish lake look well, and have not been injured by frost as much as those at Victoria. The Indians are the most thrifty looking in the Territories. Mr. Kelley was the holder of the government grist and saw mill on Mill creek, south west of Port McLeod.

QU'APPELLE.

From the Progress, September 1.

A number of our citizens propose to take advantage of the cheap C. P. R. excursion card commencing next week.

Threshing has already begun among the farmers here. The wheat will average at least 22 bushels to the acre. The Regina Leader figures are under the mark so far as Qu'Appelle district is concerned.

The appointment of a missionary at Saskatoon has been filled with Mr. Fred Hodgson, of this town, who goes there in a few days to work in the interest of the Methodist church. Mr. Hodgson last week resigned his position as head master of the public school here, and Mr. F. Andrews, son of Rev. A. Andrews, was engaged to fill his place. The school went on without any break, the new teacher starting on Monday. In the afternoon of Monday the pupils presented Mr. Hodgson with a handsome writing case and a valuable set of silver buttons and breast studs and pin, the younger portion giving a fine cut glass inkstand, all evincing the high esteem in which they held their teacher.

From the Pulse, Sept. 1.

The Regina Presbytery will meet here on the 14th inst.

It has been decided to hold the fourth annual agricultural exhibition on the 7th October.

Some 25 or 30 men of the N. W. M. P. under the command of Inspector Baker, arrived in town on Friday last, en route to Prince Albert. On reaching Touchwood their orders were countermanded, apparently, and they returned to Regina, teaching here on Tuesday.

The new fire truck and other fire appliances were being completed, and last evening were driven around town. The plating some of the better cases of the new engine. One of the cases belonging to Mr. J. M. Campbell getting collared by a telegraph pole broke the harness and passed on. The truck is greatly admired by all who have seen it, and holds great credit upon the maker, Mr. Estery.

A BIG SCHEME.

Mr. F. H. Brydges, vice-President of the Manitoba and Northwestern Railway, who has just returned from England where he has been for some months past in connection with railway and colonization business, was seen yesterday. In reference to his trip, Mr. Brydges said that he had been successful in the object for which it was made. He has succeeded in floating a scheme for the colonization of a provincial lands. This company is entitled "The Commercial Colonization Company of Manitoba." It was formed for the purpose of purchasing lands, and enhancing the value by assisting immigrants to settle in the vicinity thereof, in a scheme of advances which has been approved of by the Minister of the Interior. It is intended to work the company upon a strictly commercial basis. The settlers will be carefully selected, and will consist as much as possible of agriculturists with a certain amount of capital, as it is believed that lands in a district fairly settled with people of this class will become valuable more rapidly than lands of equal fertility where settlements have not the same elements of success.

The lands to be acquired are all of a fertile character, and within a radius of twenty miles from the present line of the Manitoba and Northwestern railway. Under the Dominion Act, and under a plan sanctioned by the Minister of the Interior, advances limited at $600 per settler may be made upon the security of their homesteads, and are constituted a first charge on the land and buildings, and carry interest at 8 per cent. The advances of $600 would represent a charge of about $2 per acre on the ground and buildings, whilst the value of such property in districts settled, as those coming under this scheme, would be taken at about $10 per acre. The company will undertake to make these advances, but will make it a condition that settlers should take up their homesteads in townships where the company holds lands.

Under the terms of purchase the Company has (subject to the restrictions, if any, imposed by the Acts of the Legislature, or by the Orders in Council under which the lands become vested in the Railway Company) the right to acquire 50,000 acres of land in the province of Manitoba in districts already fairly settled, and which lands will be immediately suitable for sale to parties desiring to purchase land at the higher prices current for such districts. The balance of land to be acquired consists of 90,000 acres, to be selected from fifteen townships in the Northwest Territories, that is, the Company will acquire ten sections in each of these townships. It is proposed to place thirty families upon each township. So confident is the M. & N. W. railway of the success in which will result from this scheme, that they have agreed to allow the company the option of spreading the purchase of the land over a period of five years in instalments. The railway company, however, reserves the right to call upon the company by giving one month's notice either to complete its contract for the purchase of land, or terminate it so far as lands are not purchased on being paid a profit of 45 per cent. In consequence of these arrangements the first purchase of the company will consist of 10,000 acres in Manitoba and 19,000 acres in the Northwest Territories. It is expected that the expenses of the company and interest on debentures will be met by the interest on the advances to settlers, thus leaving the profit from sales of land at the enhanced values available for dividend to the shareholders. It is thought that the settlement of the whole lands could be carried out within five years, or indeed, if the amount of immigration, as appears likely to increase, within a much shorter period.

Mr. Brydges also stated that he had found no difficulty in getting the right class of settlers to come out. They are all well to do. Some had already arrived, but the majority of those who were coming would not arrive until next spring.

J. R. McPhail, general merchant, has returned from Winnipeg, where he had been purchasing a fall and winter supply of goods for his store in the east end.

Mr. John Stewart was delighted with his trip to Winnipeg. He speaks in the highest terms of the beautiful crops of golden grain. From Monmouth east he saw stacks of grain as far as the eye could carry. He purchased four bushels of the Russian wheat, two bushels of each kind, that being the whole amount one person could get.

P.; Mr. Pearce, Inspector of mines, and Mr. White's private secretary—arrived here to-day about 14.30 from Battleford. They were highly pleased with their overland trip. The only obstacle to mar their pleasure was a slow, steady rain, which set in last Saturday night, and continued all night and part of the day, making the road very slippery. Mr. White and family leave for Regina on this evening's train. Judge Rouleau departs on the morning train for Calgary and Mr. Macdonald for Victoria.

Last week a cowboy on High River caught two Blackfoot Indians killing cattle and ordered them off. They refused to go and pulled their gun on the cowboy, when the latter shot one of the Indians dead and fatally wounded another. Trouble is feared in consequence, and fifty police, twenty-five of whom arrived from Lethbridge, are in readiness to march for the Blackfoot Crossing at a moment's notice.—McLeod Gazette.

The following in reference to Gabriel is taken from the Fergus County (Montana) Argus: "Gabriel Dumont returned to Lewistown a few weeks ago from the upper country. Whatever his mission was or his purposes are, he is losing his power among the half-breeds. We have heard it said that he was trying to gather some followers in this section, but thus far he has met with a flat failure. No doubt Dumont regards himself as a hero among the half-breeds and works them for all the money and presents he can get, but we hardly think he is thirsting for another insurrection. No long as he can work the hero racket he will have a soft snap. He has recently squeezed enough money out of the half-breeds to purchase a horse and a cart and will start soon for Turtle Mountain region in Dakota. He expects to join the Wild West show later in the fall. It will be remembered that Dumont was with this show before it left for England, but he did not dare venture on British soil, so remained behind. He is shrewd enough to get along and live without work, but is losing prestige among the half-breeds, and is, indeed, a very harmless character."

A NORTHWEST MUSEUM.

The Historical Society has done a wise thing in inviting officials of the Hudson Bay Company now assembled here to a reception at its room this afternoon. These gentlemen, especially those whose posts are situated in the far north and northwest, have splendid opportunities for securing curiosities and specimens—geological, botanical and otherwise—and are acquainted with many facts regarding history of the Northwest which ought to be brought out. Many of them frequently send large donations to the Smithsonian Institute, and the late Prof. Baird stated recently that the Hudson's Bay factors furnished the institute with some of its most valuable collections, especially in regard to the Indians of the Northwest. Indeed, the Smithsonian Institute contains the only complete collection of Indian curiosities and relics on the continent, and Canadians have to go to Washington to properly study the ethnology of their own country. That useful institution is not grudging its collection; but there is no reason why, in the home of the Indian, there should not be one here equally good. The habits of the Indian are fast changing under the influences of civilization, and before long many relics of his primitive life, now rapidly disappearing, will be absolutely unobtainable. Efforts ought to be put forth to collect these and keep them in the country. The Hudson's Bay officers would without doubt be only too glad to assist the Historical Society in such an object instead of sending their specimens to enrich United States museums. And doubtless the reason which has hitherto induced them to be so liberal towards Washington collectors is simply because they were not aware there was an institution in the Northwest which would appreciate their donations.—Call.
